MEDICINAL

BEGINNING EARLY is half the battle. Don't wait for your cough to run into Consumption. There's always danger of it. The germs or seeds of this disease are all around you. All that they want is an inactive liver and the scrofulous condition that follows it, to develop them.

condition that follows it, to develop them.

You need Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, now, to thoroughly purify your blood, build up sound, firm, honest flesh, and make every weak spot stones of Consumption.

DR. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir-Two of our DR. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir—Two of our best doctors pronounced my case consumption. I spent nearly $300, and was no better. I concluded to try the "Golden Medical Discovery." I bought eight bottles, and I can now say with truth that I feel just as well to-day as I did at twenty-five, and can do just as good a day's work on the farm, although I had not done any work for several years. I give you all the thanks.

Truly, your friend,

Experience of a Wheelman.

Teddy Dolson a few nights ago had an experience compared with which Tam o' Shanter's famous ride pales into insignificance. Instead of the horse with which Tam was equipped, Teddy had a bicycle; in the places of the witches that pursued and plagued and almost crazed the Scotsman, the Cheyenne man was followed by hungry coyotes. Tam, too, had taken a generous libation of usquebaugh, while Dolson's only refreshment was a hearty supper.

On the evening in question, according to his habit, Dolson started out for a bicycle run. He had intended to go a few miles south, then return, but being unacquainted with the country lost his way, and in endeavoring to regain his bearings lost himself entirely. He wheeled on in the direction that Chey-enne seemed to him to be, arriving at 8.30 o'clock at Wheeler's ranch, 20 miles from Cheyenne.

There he was directed how to get back to town, and started back on the DOOR AND WINDOW FRAMES, MOULD trail. On and on he rode, but in no ixed direction, for in the darkness he had promptly lost his way again on leaving the Wheeler ranch. As he wheeled along in the gloomy night over the untracked prairie, wishing for nothing on earth so much as a comfortable bed, he became suddenly aware of the fact that he was being closely followed.

Behind him was a pack of yelping, howling coyottes, that were close upon him before being noticed. There intention was so evident that his waning energies were awakened with a thrill, He bent over his wheel and pushed it as fast as he could over hill and valley, but always closely followed by the coyottes. To add to his misfortunes, he broke a pedal in attempting too great speed, and was on the point of giving out and letting the hungry coyottes do their worst when he spied a deserted shack a short distance away. To this he hastened, and, abandoning his bicycle, climbed upon the root that slanted up from the ground. Even here the co-yottes followed bim, but a coign of vantage and place of refuge was found on the top of the chimney.

All night he remained there, at times driving away his pursuers with frag-ments of bricks, which caused their retreat to a short distance, whence, after series of lugubrious howls, the would return to the attack. At day, light they departed with a parting salute of angry howls, and Dolson climb-ed down and mounted his bicycle, soon reaching Pierce station on the Denver Pacific, 38 miles from Cheyenne.— Cheyenne Leader.

EZETA TELLS HIS STORY .- Gen. Antonio Ezeta and his refugee companions from San Salvador declare that the charges of murder and robbery preferred against them are easily explainable.

Ezeta says that between the 20th of April and May 3 three battles were fought near Santa Anna, in which his forces were defeated. Ezeta was wounded in the head on May 3, and was concealed in a house. Two weeks later, with 3000 of his followers, he made his way to the seacoast.

There he found the Bennington and asked for refuge until the steamer San Boules on her way north arrived four days later. When the San Boules arrived, the refugees were not allowed to board her, but were kept against their will on the Bennington.

Ezeta explains the charge of murder against him by saying that he did not kill the man, but that thet amster who tried to intercept him was shot by one of his men, an American. Lieutenant Coffin corroborated the story as regards the bank robbery. Ezeta says he took the money from the bank and gave his receipt for it as president of the repubunder the law of the country. General Bustamento, who is accused of hanging four men, states he hung them, said the men were deserters from the army. In fact, all the offenses charged against the refugees are explained by them as committed while attempting to fulfil the laws of the country.

DRY GOODS.

TRUSTEE'S SALE CONTINUED At Pretzfelder & Co.'s, 530 King St. Another word to the good people of Alexandria. To those who were wise enough to give us a call and to inspect the offerings we have been making for the last few weeks, it is need-less for us to say anything in the way of ex-planation of what we are doing. Our bar-gains are more convincing than columns of argument and our prices more eloquent than mere words. But to those who are shy and backward, and who are suspicious of "sales" andria. To those who were wise enough to give backward, and who are suspicious of "sales" gotten up now and then by merchants to boom business, we desire to say a few words to-day.

RIVER RUNS DRY.

In the first place we want you to understand that this is no "fake" selling out. It isn't done for pleasure, and it isn't done for profit. Stern necessity caused the institution of this sale. Stern necessity fixed the prices. Stern necessity again demands a cut in prices regardless of the value, cost and desirability of the Goods, Wares and Merchandise we have The law says that this estate must be speed

The law says that this estate must be speedily wound up, and wind up is the word even if we have to practically give the goods away.

Now, if we have convinced you that this is a bona fide clearing out, and have gained enough of your confidence to have you believe that our object is to get rid of the goods we have at any prices, we will, for the purpose of convincing those who have not visited our MAMMOTH SLAUGHTER SALE that we offer the bragins of a life-time quote we offer the bargains of a life-time, quote some prices we have made on popular and desirable goods. Figures, we know, don't lie, so we will let them speak for themselves. Look over our list carefully, and if you see anything you want, cut out the advertisement, and put you want, cut out the advertisement, and put you finger on the article and come to us, and you will get the stuff exactly as advertised. To our numerous friends who have been in to see us so often lately, we desire to say only that this picnic can't last much longer. Make hay while the sun shines. Our loss is your gain. A word to the wise is sufficient.

After perusing the prices given above, can any one candidly say that we are not ready to make good any promise we have m de? Why, we could sell to shop-keepers at these prices; but we prefer to give the people the benefit of this opportunity. Our unprecedented since she heretofore in this sale makes us anticipate cess heretolore in this rate makes in anticipate a very lively week after this great cut, and we therefore advise those who intend to take advantage of it, to call early, so we can give them the benefit of a better choice and bett rattention. The wide-a-wake man and woman are the persons who get along best now; and they are sileep to their own interests who will permit this chance to go by without se z-ing the opportunity to profit thereby.
